

Albuquerque Weekly Citizen.

VOLUME 7.

ALBUQUERQUE, NEW MEXICO, SATURDAY, JUNE 12, 1867.

NUMBER 259.

THE UNIVERSITY!

Commencement Exercises of This Institution Last Night.

FOUR YOUNG GRADUATES.

The Exercises Interesting and Important-The Oration Grand-The Decorations Superb.

BRIEF SYNOPSIS OF WORK ACCOMPLISHED.

The commencement exercises of the New Mexico University took place at the theatre last night, and this was the first time that the subject had been so well attended by the four young graduates who had studied under their teachers, and appeared before a more critical and appreciative audience than that presented them last night.

Students from the male scholars in every part of the country met at the stage, and their friends crowded at the door and assigned them seats.

The stage presented a most beautiful scene, handsomely draped with red which was tastefully draped with light yellow and green material, with a bunch of flowers here and there, and thus, in this way, this prominent letters was placed if the class of '66, "Albuquerque."

The stage proper were stands of potted plants, palms, ferns and so on, a perfect and pretty bower of greenery, while brightly in the background of the stage appeared a large group of statues.

At the commencement, the following gentle men addressed the graduates and took seats on the stage:

Hiram Hadley, vice president of the university; Miss Josephine S. Farson; Mrs. M. L. Taylor; Prof. J. H. Paxton; Prof. W. A. Denney; Prof. R. W. Finnegan; Mr. Montoya, Jr., of the faculty; Rev. W. A. Chancie, secretary of the board of regents; Rev. A. C. Welch, pastor of the Second Avenue Methodist church; Rev. Dr. A. Bagby, pastor of the Baptist church, and the graduating class. Misses Mary A. Alger and Blanche M. Holden, and Charles W. Ward and Maynard C. Harting.

The exercises opened by the university choir singing in a clear voice, under the direction of Prof. J. P. Dupuy, the vocal monitor, "The Heavens are Telling," then Hadley's "Creation."

This was followed by a most impressive address from Rev. Dr. Harting.

Charles W. Ward then stepped forward and delivered his oration on the subject "The Word as a Symbol." He was frequently applauded, and when he reached the point in his oration where he appealed to the people to keep politics out of the schools and choose only competent and worthy members of school boards, the meeting that followed demonstrated that some local hit had been given.

Misses Farson, Hunning, Davis and Bagby as a quartet, delighted the audience by singing "A Jolly Prayer." They were heartily applauded.

In a clear voice, every word being perfectly articulated, Miss Alger delivered a grand and magnificent oration on the subject "A Factor in Modern Life." The delivery of her theme, the manner in which she expressed herself, showed that she had given deep and conscientious study to the thoughts advanced, and her many admirers showed their appreciation in repeated applause.

Next came a violin solo, "Romance," by Miss Louise Lemon, with Miss Kellogg who was patting on the piano.

"James' Revolving Wheels," was the subject of a creditable and solid oration delivered by Miss Blanche M. Holden. Her written words about wheels in some degree, these are called fanatics.

Charles W. Ward then stepped forward and delivered his oration on the subject "The Word as a Symbol." He was frequently applauded, and when he reached the point in his oration where he appealed to the people to keep politics out of the schools and choose only competent and worthy members of school boards, the meeting that followed demonstrated that some local hit had been given.

It is not unusual to hear persons who are poorly informed criticize the University, as well as others of our educational institutions, but it still continues to be true that "the proof of the pudding is in the eating." These wheatened the exercises last evening had an intelligent reply to all these criticisms.

We understand that Prof. Hadley has resigned and will return from the University, but he can be assured that he leaves the institution in excellent condition for his successor.

HAS THE RIGHT RING.

Mayo's Suit of Brass Ware Help the Territorial Fair.

A few days ago J. E. Saint, secretary of the Territorial Fair association, wrote a letter to Wm. O'Neill, mayor of Prescott, V. T., regarding the coming fair, and in response thereto the following important and interesting letter has been received:

PROSPERITY.

Prosp. V. T., June 9, 1867.
Dear Sirs:-

I send you a copy of my speech, which I made at the opening of the Territorial Fair, in which I said, "I hope that the Territorial Fair will be a success, and I hope that the people will be satisfied with the arrangements made for it."

Another speech I made at the opening of the Territorial Fair, in which I said, "I hope that the people will be satisfied with the arrangements made for it."

Another speech I made at the opening of the Territorial Fair, in which I said, "I hope that the people will be satisfied with the arrangements made for it."

Another speech I made at the opening of the Territorial Fair, in which I said, "I hope that the people will be satisfied with the arrangements made for it."

Another speech I made at the opening of the Territorial Fair, in which I said, "I hope that the people will be satisfied with the arrangements made for it."

Another speech I made at the opening of the Territorial Fair, in which I said, "I hope that the people will be satisfied with the arrangements made for it."

Another speech I made at the opening of the Territorial Fair, in which I said, "I hope that the people will be satisfied with the arrangements made for it."

Another speech I made at the opening of the Territorial Fair, in which I said, "I hope that the people will be satisfied with the arrangements made for it."

Another speech I made at the opening of the Territorial Fair, in which I said, "I hope that the people will be satisfied with the arrangements made for it."

Another speech I made at the opening of the Territorial Fair, in which I said, "I hope that the people will be satisfied with the arrangements made for it."

Another speech I made at the opening of the Territorial Fair, in which I said, "I hope that the people will be satisfied with the arrangements made for it."

Another speech I made at the opening of the Territorial Fair, in which I said, "I hope that the people will be satisfied with the arrangements made for it."

Another speech I made at the opening of the Territorial Fair, in which I said, "I hope that the people will be satisfied with the arrangements made for it."

Another speech I made at the opening of the Territorial Fair, in which I said, "I hope that the people will be satisfied with the arrangements made for it."

Another speech I made at the opening of the Territorial Fair, in which I said, "I hope that the people will be satisfied with the arrangements made for it."

Another speech I made at the opening of the Territorial Fair, in which I said, "I hope that the people will be satisfied with the arrangements made for it."

Another speech I made at the opening of the Territorial Fair, in which I said, "I hope that the people will be satisfied with the arrangements made for it."

Another speech I made at the opening of the Territorial Fair, in which I said, "I hope that the people will be satisfied with the arrangements made for it."

Another speech I made at the opening of the Territorial Fair, in which I said, "I hope that the people will be satisfied with the arrangements made for it."

Another speech I made at the opening of the Territorial Fair, in which I said, "I hope that the people will be satisfied with the arrangements made for it."

Another speech I made at the opening of the Territorial Fair, in which I said, "I hope that the people will be satisfied with the arrangements made for it."

Another speech I made at the opening of the Territorial Fair, in which I said, "I hope that the people will be satisfied with the arrangements made for it."

Another speech I made at the opening of the Territorial Fair, in which I said, "I hope that the people will be satisfied with the arrangements made for it."

Another speech I made at the opening of the Territorial Fair, in which I said, "I hope that the people will be satisfied with the arrangements made for it."

Another speech I made at the opening of the Territorial Fair, in which I said, "I hope that the people will be satisfied with the arrangements made for it."

Another speech I made at the opening of the Territorial Fair, in which I said, "I hope that the people will be satisfied with the arrangements made for it."

Another speech I made at the opening of the Territorial Fair, in which I said, "I hope that the people will be satisfied with the arrangements made for it."

Another speech I made at the opening of the Territorial Fair, in which I said, "I hope that the people will be satisfied with the arrangements made for it."

Another speech I made at the opening of the Territorial Fair, in which I said, "I hope that the people will be satisfied with the arrangements made for it."

Another speech I made at the opening of the Territorial Fair, in which I said, "I hope that the people will be satisfied with the arrangements made for it."

Another speech I made at the opening of the Territorial Fair, in which I said, "I hope that the people will be satisfied with the arrangements made for it."

Another speech I made at the opening of the Territorial Fair, in which I said, "I hope that the people will be satisfied with the arrangements made for it."

Another speech I made at the opening of the Territorial Fair, in which I said, "I hope that the people will be satisfied with the arrangements made for it."

Another speech I made at the opening of the Territorial Fair, in which I said, "I hope that the people will be satisfied with the arrangements made for it."

Another speech I made at the opening of the Territorial Fair, in which I said, "I hope that the people will be satisfied with the arrangements made for it."

Another speech I made at the opening of the Territorial Fair, in which I said, "I hope that the people will be satisfied with the arrangements made for it."

Another speech I made at the opening of the Territorial Fair, in which I said, "I hope that the people will be satisfied with the arrangements made for it."

Another speech I made at the opening of the Territorial Fair, in which I said, "I hope that the people will be satisfied with the arrangements made for it."

Another speech I made at the opening of the Territorial Fair, in which I said, "I hope that the people will be satisfied with the arrangements made for it."

Another speech I made at the opening of the Territorial Fair, in which I said, "I hope that the people will be satisfied with the arrangements made for it."

Another speech I made at the opening of the Territorial Fair, in which I said, "I hope that the people will be satisfied with the arrangements made for it."

Another speech I made at the opening of the Territorial Fair, in which I said, "I hope that the people will be satisfied with the arrangements made for it."

Another speech I made at the opening of the Territorial Fair, in which I said, "I hope that the people will be satisfied with the arrangements made for it."

Another speech I made at the opening of the Territorial Fair, in which I said, "I hope that the people will be satisfied with the arrangements made for it."

Another speech I made at the opening of the Territorial Fair, in which I said, "I hope that the people will be satisfied with the arrangements made for it."

Another speech I made at the opening of the Territorial Fair, in which I said, "I hope that the people will be satisfied with the arrangements made for it."

Another speech I made at the opening of the Territorial Fair, in which I said, "I hope that the people will be satisfied with the arrangements made for it."

Another speech I made at the opening of the Territorial Fair, in which I said, "I hope that the people will be satisfied with the arrangements made for it."

Another speech I made at the opening of the Territorial Fair, in which I said, "I hope that the people will be satisfied with the arrangements made for it."

Another speech I made at the opening of the Territorial Fair, in which I said, "I hope that the people will be satisfied with the arrangements made for it."

Another speech I made at the opening of the Territorial Fair, in which I said, "I hope that the people will be satisfied with the arrangements made for it."

Another speech I made at the opening of the Territorial Fair, in which I said, "I hope that the people will be satisfied with the arrangements made for it."

Another speech I made at the opening of the Territorial Fair, in which I said, "I hope that the people will be satisfied with the arrangements made for it."

Another speech I made at the opening of the Territorial Fair, in which I said, "I hope that the people will be satisfied with the arrangements made for it."

Another speech I made at the opening of the Territorial Fair, in which I said, "I hope that the people will be satisfied with the arrangements made for it."

Another speech I made at the opening of the Territorial Fair, in which I said, "I hope that the people will be satisfied with the arrangements made for it."

Another speech I made at the opening of the Territorial Fair, in which I said, "I hope that the people will be satisfied with the arrangements made for it."

Another speech I made at the opening of the Territorial Fair, in which I said, "I hope that the people will be satisfied with the arrangements made for it."

Another speech I made at the opening of the Territorial Fair, in which I said, "I hope that the people will be satisfied with the arrangements made for it."

Another speech I made at the opening of the Territorial Fair, in which I said, "I hope that the people will be satisfied with the arrangements made for it."

Another speech I made at the opening of the Territorial Fair, in which I said, "I hope that the people will be satisfied with the arrangements made for it."

Another speech I made at the opening of the Territorial Fair, in which I said, "I hope that the people will be satisfied with the arrangements made for it."

Another speech I made at the opening of the Territorial Fair, in which I said, "I hope that the people will be satisfied with the arrangements made for it."

Another speech I made at the opening of the Territorial Fair, in which I said, "I hope that the people will be satisfied with the arrangements made for it."

Another speech I made at the opening of the Territorial Fair, in which I said, "I hope that the people will be satisfied with the arrangements made for it."

Another speech I made at the opening of the Territorial Fair, in which I said, "I hope that the people will be satisfied with the arrangements made for it."

Another speech I made at the opening of the Territorial Fair, in which I said, "I hope that the people will be satisfied with the arrangements made for it."

Another speech I made at the opening of the Territorial Fair, in which I said, "I hope that the people will be satisfied with the arrangements made for it."

Another speech I made at the opening of the Territorial Fair, in which I said, "I hope that the people will be satisfied with the arrangements made for it."

Another speech I made at the opening of the Territorial Fair, in which I said, "I hope that the people will be satisfied with the arrangements made for it."

Another speech I made at the opening of the Territorial Fair, in which I said, "I hope that the people will be satisfied with the arrangements made for it."

Another speech I made at the opening of the Territorial Fair, in which I said, "I hope that the people will be satisfied with the arrangements made for it."

Another speech I made at the opening of the Territorial Fair, in which I said, "I hope that the people will be satisfied with the arrangements made for it."

Another speech I made at the opening of the Territorial Fair, in which I said, "I hope that the people will be satisfied with the arrangements made for it."

Another speech I made at the opening of the Territorial Fair, in which I said, "I hope that the people will be satisfied with the arrangements made for it."

Another speech I made at the opening of the Territorial Fair, in which I said, "I hope that the people will be satisfied with the arrangements made for it."

Another speech I made at the opening of the Territorial Fair, in which I said, "I hope that the people will be satisfied with the arrangements made for it."

Another speech I made at the opening of the Territorial Fair, in which I said, "I hope that the people will be satisfied with the arrangements made for it."

Another speech I made at the opening of the Territorial Fair, in which I said, "I hope that the people will be satisfied with the arrangements made for it."

Another speech I made at the opening of the Territorial Fair, in which I said, "I hope that the people will be satisfied with the arrangements made for it."

Another speech I made at the opening of the Territorial Fair, in which I said, "I hope that the people will be satisfied with the arrangements made for it."

Another speech I made at the opening of the Territorial Fair, in which I said, "I hope that the people will be satisfied with the arrangements made for it."

Another speech I made at the opening of the Territorial Fair, in which I said, "I hope that the people will be satisfied with the arrangements made for it."

Another speech I made at the opening of the Territorial Fair, in which I said, "I hope that the people will be satisfied with the arrangements made for it."